Study abroad programs are first and foremost academic programs. It is important you have thorough academic advising prior to departing for your program so you understand how the courses abroad fit into your degree plan.

1. Meet with your academic advisor; bring all the course information from your abroad program. Fill out the course equivalencies chart and both you and the advisor sign below.

2. Meet with the Registrar to verify the course equivalencies. Please be aware that upon your return and possible review of your transcript by an independent evaluating agency, course equivalencies may change. You will be notified of the evaluation costs and changes.

3. Make a copy of the Course Equivalency Form as well as the course descriptions. The Registrar will keep the originals; bring the copies to the International Studies Office.
